

Action 10.2: Make EU Missions and partnerships key contributors to ERA (Partnerships)
Contact point: RTD, Unit G4, Mihaela Williams (back-ups: Maria Leek, Marnix Surgeon)
1. Description	As regards partnerships, the action in the ERA Policy Agenda is formulated as follows: 'Monitor the performance of partnerships and how they contribute to the new ERA and its set of values and principles (on the basis of the work of the Partnership Knowledge Hub). In concrete terms, two lines of interaction between the Partnership Knowledge Hub and the ERA Forum are being considered: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The Partnership Knowledge Hub (PKH) will be the central interaction point between the Commission, the Member States/Associated Countries and the Partnerships for producing the Biennial Monitoring Report on European Partnerships (BMR), which will monitor the performance of European Partnerships across the lifetime of Horizon Europe. The PKH will be asked to prepare an opinion on this BMR, which will be channelled to the ERA Forum for discussion and possible further follow-up, for instance towards the Council. - Through the PKH, the Commission also wants to engage in strategic discussions on issues that are cross-cutting to partnerships and align with the values and principles of the new ERA. Examples are, for instance: international cooperation and synergies. If and when considered relevant and important by the PKH, the outcome of these discussions will also be channelled to the ERA Forum for a further discussion from a specific ERA angle.

4. Funding	Support for the work of the PKH will be provided through Horizon Europe.
5. Expected impact	The work of the PKH and its links to the ERA Forum aim at establishing first of all a community around partnership related policy issues, where exchange of information and experience becomes routine. A second important expected impact is that it would also strengthen the evidence base on which to build future partnership policy, including by enhancing its acceptance and the conclusions drawn from it at the higher political level.
6. Monitoring	Monitoring of the execution of this action will be done through the structures set up for running the PKH.
7. Communication	Dedicated communication actions on partnerships are already taking place. This includes a dedicated website on Europa.eu, but also infographics and visuals. The publication of the first BMR will be accompanied by dedicated communication actions, which are still under discussion, but will include e.g. web-based access to the report and its underlying data. An annual Partnership Forum will also be organised as one of the main communication tools on European Partnerships.
8. Additional information	The work on the drafting of the Biennial Monitoring Report on European Partnerships is being done in close cooperation with a Commission expert group.
